HAPPENINGS IN STATE

HIGH SCHOOLS APPLY FOR FEDERAL AND STATE AIDED VOCATIONAL COURSES

SACRAMENTO, Cal, August 30.—Scores of high schools in the state are making application to Edwin R. Snyder, state commissioner of industrial and vocational education, for the establishment and maintenance of federal and state aided vocational courses under the federal vocational education act. As the main purpose of the act is to promote clearly defined courses in vocational education, the state board of education has limited the courses to agriculture, trade, home economics and industrial subjects. Schools that establish agricultural courses will be allowed a sum equal to one-half the amount of the salary of the teacher, provided the salary shall not be less than $1500 per year or the reimbursement more than $1000 per year. The requirements under this course are: That not less than three hours per day of each pupil's time must be devoted to farm project work and instruction in farm mechanics, and not less than three hours in academic class work. That each pupil shall conduct at least one farm project during the school year, and that such work shall consist in producing and marketing farm, orchard, vineyard or garden crops, or of bees, poultry or stock. That the project work must be conducted upon a commercially productive basis. Each pupil must buy or lease the necessary land or animals; purchase the seed, fertilizer and feed; employ labor, market his crops and keep record of these and other transactions and the accounts must balance. Any boy or girl over 14 years old, without regard to scholarship or grade of school previously attended, shall be admitted to take the course. There is no failure under the course. Each pupil shall be given a certificate after completing the year's work, containing his correct rating in percentages in each subject.

Sacramento boasts of the first woman taxi driver in California. Her name is Mrs. H. B. Crist. She accepted this job of "chasing calls" to earn a living for her little girl and boy while daddy is helping to humble the Kaiser. Four weeks ago Crist left his home with a local hos-

IT IS UP TO THE MERCHANTS

The secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce has commenced a "Trade at Home Campaign," and it is his plan to work it to a finish. There is a column and a half article on the subject in to-day's paper. After reading that article, turn to the advertising columns and notice what merchants are asking for the patronage of Glendale people. Repeat this act every day for six days in the week and then decide for yourself who are the live merchants.

The management of the Evening News believes that every resident of Glendale, so far as possible, should buy merchandise in Glendale. He also believes that every merchant should systematically and regularly mention his offerings through the columns of the local daily paper.

RETURN FROM CAMPING TRIP

H. M. Butts, of the Monarch Company, 421 South Brand boulevard, with his wife, his daughter, Mary, and youngest son, Horatio, returned last evening from a week's fishing at Malibu. The fishing was good and they had a delightful time; but Mr. Butts said he was glad to get back to Glendale to take up again the adjustment of headlights. In his absence his son Frederick and R. H. Staniland attended to the business.

The trip to Malibu was made in a big National Pullman auto, a seven-passenger, with sleeping accommodation, and furnished with pantry, closet for wardrobe in the rear, toilet cabinets, outriggers for additional sleeping accommodation, etc. It is the car in which Mr. Butts and his family came here from Denver several years ago.

CONTRACT LET FOR SUNSET BUILDING

The contract for the construction of the Sunset Telephone building to be erected in Glendale has been awarded to the J. M. Dougan Company of San Francisco. The figure submitted by this company is not known here, nor could it be learned at the Sunset office in Los Angeles. It was stated there that they had not the information. The price submitted by Chas. W. Kent & Son, of Glendale, the only other bidder, was $46,000.

ERA OF THE IDEAL

TO WEBB THE WHOLE WORLD MAY BE EXPRESSED IN TERMS OF HARDWARE

The period in which we are now living will be known in history as the era that witnessed the advent of the ideal. This is not to say that the ideal was unknown until now, but that it never before entered, as it does to-day, into the lives and affairs of men. Men, some men, have always had ideals, some principle and spring of action, who looked above the merely sordid or material level of achievement and gave a certain distinction to all they undertook, to all they accomplished. But to-day the ideal is with us, despite the fact that the dollar is also, and likely to remain while it is made, the alpha and omega of effort and desire.

But the business ideal is all that concerns us here. When a business house, for example, sets before it the trinity, quality in goods, quality in service, quality in treatment of customers, and adds a fourth, economy in price, it is said to have an ideal, which is its distinguishing mark and speaks for the house. By that mark it becomes known to the world. When the present management of the Glendale Hardware Company came into being, it set this ideal before it. Does it pay? That question should be answered by another: Would a practical business man adopt an ideal, if the ideal in business didn't pay? Business men, as a rule, don't live in the clouds, not even those with the highest ideals. Business is not philanthropy, but simply business, and if an ideal was not an investment, it would not be an element in business. The buying public is a quick and an appreciative discerner of the quality that spells ideal, and the business man is sometimes a quick and shrewd discerner of the fact; sometimes he is an idealist because he can be nothing else, but he would not take his idealism into business if it stood in the way of success. That is, he would not be in business.

The Glendale Hardware Company has probably the largest trade of the kind in San Fernando Valley, so that would appear to settle the question. The hardware business is rather a long story, if you go into details; but we are not writing catalogues. Take it for granted that a complete line is carried, but this house is headquarters in the valley for paints, disinfectants and chicken remedies. They have tires, too, any number of them, and they will add a plumbing branch shortly, when they have extended their premises. But we'll let it go at that.

James Webb is the manager of the Glendale Hardware Company, and his assistant is F. W. Sanford. Mr. Sanford would have you believe that he is older than he is. He derides youth. But Mr. Webb himself is something of a grave and reverend seignior—at times. Not that he is old at all—only grave; not that he is weighted with his ideal, but that he may have contemplated at one time the vanity of all human wishes; but let him smile, and age and gravity drop from him like a cloak, which only goes to show that a man's face may have several values. But getting back to business, what does Mr. Webb think of hardware? He sees it everywhere, in everything; to him the whole world may be expressed in terms of hardware. That is what a bent may come to. But as to the concern he manages, it is but a nucleus of what he hopes to make it.

INTERESTING HIKING TRIP

A very interesting trip is the "hiking" party which Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Henry are planning to take during the next ten days. Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Henry, accompanied by Dorothy Clark, Katherine Henry, Mrs. Emma Brownfield and Mrs. Emma Winters, will go by motor to Camp Baldy, where Mrs. Brownfield and Mrs. Winters and the two children will be installed in the Clark cabin. The other four members of the party will pack their camping outfit on three burros and proceed up the San Antonio water shed over to Lytle Creek, where the party expect to find good hunting and fishing. From Lytle Creek the party will go down the desert side of Old Baldy to Big Rock Creek, up the west fork of Big Rock Creek to Mt. Islip, across Big Pine Flats and down the north fork of the San Gabriel to Coldbrook. They will visit Rincon and Follow's Camp, then proceeding up the east fork of the San Gabriel to Camp Baldy again. This itinerary if followed will be through some of the finest scenery and best fishing and hunting grounds in Southern California.

FIGHT ON WAR PROFITS TAX

EFFORT TO CLOSE DEBATE AND FORCE VOTE ON WAR REVENUE BILL TO BE MADE THIS AFTERNOON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 30.—The climax in the Senate fight over war profits taxation drew near this afternoon. Senator Simmons, champion of the committee's bill, planned a final effort to shut off debate and force an immediate vote.

The Soldiers' Insurance bill was also reported in the house. The committee reduced the amount to which a man may insure himself from $10,000 to $5,000. Widows lose their rights immediately on remarrying.

ITALY'S OFFENSIVE PROGRESSING

TROOPS PRACTICALLY CONTROL BAINSIZZA PLATEAU AND ARE AT THE GATES OF TOLMINO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 30.—Italy's victorious offensive has reached its second most important stage, having attained practical dominance of the Bainsizza plateau. Gen. Cadorna's troops began a vast flank movement northward. Tolmino is the immediate objective. Dispatches from the front indicate that they have reached the preliminary defenses of this Austrian city.

PROSPECTS FOR PEACE

MILITARY MEN AND DIPLOMATS SEE PEACE AHEAD AS RESULT OF WILSON'S REPLY TO POPE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 30.—Peace this winter or next spring as a result of the president's reply to the Pope, or at least peace after two years more of war is the prospect ahead, say military men and diplomats. In so far as the United States is concerned she is going ahead with war preparations.

RUSSIA RESTORES DEATH PENALTY

KERENSKY FINDS EXTREME MEASURES NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN DISCIPLINE IN ARMY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 30.—The Russian provisional government has decided on the partial re-establishment of the death penalty to restore discipline in the army. Kerensky in making this announcement said, "This hurts us to the very soul, but for the salvation of our country we will kill to our very soul."

SHIPYARDS WORKERS NOT TO STRIKE

PLAN FOR ADJUSTING DIFFERENCES WITH EMPLOYES TO BE TRIED OUT ON PACIFIC COAST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 30.—Shipyards workers on the Pacific Coast will not strike, said the secretary-treasurer of the Metal Trades department of the American Federation of Labor to-day. It was recently announced that a plan for adjusting strikes in shipyards would be given a trial.

FRANCE TO TAX WAR PROFITS

PLANS TO PUT WAR TAX ON THOSE BEST ABLE TO BEAR IT—EAGERLY WATCHING U. S.

PARIS, August 30.—France proposes to put the war cost on those best able to bear it by taxing war profits up to 80 per cent. and they are watching eagerly to see whether America is to place a similar tax on profits. If so, it will add an impetus to France's purpose.

LAURA E. ANDERSON SUNK

BRITISH ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCES SINKING OF AMERICAN SCHOONER—ENTIRE CREW SAVED

LONDON, August 30.—The sinking of the American schooner Laura E. Anderson by bombs was announced by the admiralty this afternoon. All members of the crew were saved.

FIFTY-FIVE MILE FARM

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 30.—The most unique farm in the United States will be sown in wheat or alfalfa this fall. It will be fifty-five miles long and 200 feet wide, and will occupy the land which represents the present right of way of the Denver & Laramie railway, which will be "junked" September 1 by its owner, M. S. Radetsky. The "farm" will extend from Greeley, Colo., to Denver, and will pass through the business sections of several small towns between the two. The railroad, which has never paid, was recently purchased at public auction by Radetsky, a dealer in defunct railroad properties. The rolling stock and track will be sold for junk, and the right of way used as a wheat or alfalfa field.

REJECTS ANNEXATION

TROPICO AT SPECIAL ELECTION TURNS DOWN CONSOLIDATION WITH L. A.

At its special election yesterday, Tropico rejected annexation to Los Angeles by a majority of 215 votes. The issue brought out about 60 per cent. of the entire vote, there being 333 for to 548 against.

The vote in the two precincts was:

	Yes	No
Precinct No. 1	104	331
Precinct No. 2	229	217
	333	548

The total vote polled was 881. The election was hotly contested from the opening to the closing of the booths, and it was freely predicted by the antis that they would carry the day by a sweeping victory. But with all the interest, it was really a quiet day in Tropico.

The result of yesterday's poll goes to prove again that annexation to Los Angeles is growing in unpopularity. Less than two years ago, when the question was presented to Eagle Rock it voted no; ten days ago Santa Monica did the same thing, and now Tropico follows suit. If Los Angeles has any benefits to offer the suburban districts, they are more than counterbalanced by the dis-benefits, and the question would appear now to be fairly settled as to the proper course to pursue.

AN EXEMPTION PROBLEM

A young man with patriotic intent offered himself for enlistment in the U. S. Navy at Los Angeles in May but was refused, because of short stature and light weight. He and his sweetheart had decided to sacrifice their wishes concerning Hymen's altar on the altar of patriotism. But as he was rejected by the Navy, they saw no good reason why they should not get married, which they did on August 8th.

But on August 11th he was called for examination under the draft and was duly examined in Glendale. One of the surgeons told him he was short in stature and Bosserman's scales showed that he weighed only 114 pounds. But to his surprise he was accepted and so notified.

The newspapers had stated that those who married after June 5th would not be allowed exemption on the ground of having committed matrimony. So he and his wife talked it over and thought it would be useless to file an appeal.

Then after the time for appeal expired, he was informed that under President Wilson's subsequent interpretation of the law he could have made good an appeal, but the time for such appeal had passed.

Query: Is there any way by which his case could be reopened and give him opportunity to lay before the exemption board the facts which justly would have exempted him?

The best thing the conditions seemed to suggest was this: That he and his wife should make affidavit to the facts and deliver it first to the local exemption board. Then if they could do nothing, to the United States Attorney, who represents the Government in all matters of exemption appeals, and see if, as a matter not of strict interpretation of law but of equity, justice and right, the Government will grant him exemption.

That suggestion is based on the theory that our Government is more interested in doing entirely the proper thing under all the circumstances than it is in securing a few enlistments more or less.

WALT. LE NOIR CHURCH.

JOIN THE CHORUS

As a feature of the Saturday night community singing a chorus will be called together Friday night at the Glendale music store at half past eight. The rehearsals will be short and the music easy, but new and catchy, strictly patriotic songs.

If you have a voice and ear bring them along; it is about all required as you will be presented with printed copies for the trouble of helping out. Drop in a few minutes earlier so as to look over your music. Men, women, boys and girls who can sing on pitch are eligible at the Glendale Music Store. Rehearsal, 8:30. Herbert Henning at the piano. 311t2

ANNEXATION PETITION

At to-night's meeting of the Board of Trustees the question of the annexation of Tropico to Glendale will be formally presented, and a petition will likely be ordered to be submitted to the Board of Trustees of Tropico requesting that an election be called to decide the annexation question.

GLENDALE LEAGUE

FOR HOME BUSINESS AND BETTER BUSINESS INAUGURATED BY C. OF C.

By Walt. Le Noir Church

Join the Glendale League for Home Business and Better Business?

"Sure, we will. What is it?"

"Home Business means Better Business." That's our slogan. It appeals to all Glendalians.

It implies the one plan about the efficiency of which there will be no rational difference of opinion.

That convincing slogan can be proclaimed as the prophecy and promise of sure and speedy good results.

One quick way to improve local business is to rapidly increase the local circulation of money.

To test that, mark one silver dollar, trace its circulation for one month, and be astonished to find how many bills it will pay or help pay, and what investments it will aid in promoting. Then you will get an idea what business would be were there enough dollars locally circulating for every desirable purpose in your community.

It follows that every dollar needed in Glendale which is needlessly sent out of Glendale is detrimental to business.

Many too-frugal people overreach themselves by purchasing most of their goods or giving their contracts in Los Angeles, and by needlessly patronizing distant mail order houses. Such a policy is seldom even "penny wise," while it certainly often is "pound foolish."

This scribe has frequently priced numerous articles in both Los Angeles and in Glendale on the same day, finding not only better prices but better goods right here at home.

Of course, the larger supply houses in Los Angeles will sometimes please you a little better than your local merchant could at that particular time.

But if all Glendalians would unite in patronizing home stores, our local merchants could do as well if not better for you, because they could afford to keep larger and better stocks of goods. Our stores are not growing in proportion to the growth of Glendale simply because they are not loyally patronized by all our own people.

It seems strange that people owning property in Glendale do not see that such a policy or habit retards the development of Glendale, and therefore seriously hurts their own interests. If we fairly patronize our own business houses, the natural result is that they do more and better business, employ more help, more people can afford to come here to

TO CALL THIRD DRAFT

The exemption board for the 7th district, Los Angeles county, have secured 135 men for the selective draft, but 20 of these are to be turned back on account of the President's proclamation exempting married men with dependent families, leaving 115 men selected. A new list from which to make up the quota required from this district will be made up this evening or early on Friday and the examination set for September 10 at Glendale Chamber of Commerce rooms, the headquarters of the board. Of the men examined at San Fernando, 111 were exempted.

According to the interpretation of the president's proclamation, all married men with dependent wives or children will be exempted, if they were married before May 18.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP

Mr. D. A. Lane, who is scoutmaster of Troop 2, Glendale Boy Scouts, with Mrs. Lane, is spending the summer at Venice.

Thursday morning the members of Troop 2 motored to Venice with their camp equipment and rations for three days to join Mr. Lane and take a hike to Santa Monica, near which place they expect to make camp. Troop 2 is composed of 32 boys, ranging in age from 12 to 18 years, and are a fine lot of manly young fellows. All the members were not able to go on this expedition. An interesting incident is that no boy is allowed to take more than a dollar along as spending money on the trip. They expect to break Camp Friday night.

AGREE ON GAS QUESTION

The Board of Trustees of Tropico has replied to the communication sent it by the Board of Trustees of Glendale on the question of the increase in the gas rate, stating that it is in hearty accord with Glendale and will support it in any action it may take.

BUSINESS VALUE OF TIDINESS

Character can be read, with an approximation to the truth, in the appearance of a place of business. If it is clean and tidy and always shipshape, the owner is usually a man who is always clean and tidy—clean in the sense of being orderly and more or less immaculate. If he is that, he has correspondences that have still more to do with his character, and that stamp the man. By these he is known among his fellows; by these he is judged—and they are all in his favor.

A clean, tidy place of business is generally pleasing to the eye and offers a large inducement to do business there. If you see a merchant scrupulous about the appearance of his stock, with everything so clean that you would not hesitate to sit down anywhere, he has in that a magnet for you that draws you to his counter. You may reply that that is merely part of the business game—to put your best foot forward, in order to induce trade. But isn't it a good thing to do any way? Isn't the game worth the candle? There are merchants who do not recognize that part of the game, and suffer in confidence, and the merchant who does is usually a man of orderly and business habits that impel him to make his store what it is, and so it becomes a reflection of himself.

But what applies to stores applies to every place of business. There should be cleanliness and order that will be as an invitation to the world and his wife to enter. It applies to business places for rent, and to lots for sale; it applies to everything that comes within the realm of exchange.

If you are thinking of renting, say, a store and you come to one where the window is smeared and the interior is eloquent in filth, you will lose no time in examining it. You will go on, and if the next vacant store you come to is just the opposite of the other, and although perhaps not so well suited to your purpose as the one you first looked at, you will at once prefer it and give it at least serious consideration. And this simply because its cleanly appearance attracted you. You can always arrive at an understanding with cleanliness, but never with dirt.

Then there is the vacant lot for sale. Here, location may enter as a large element, as it enters more or less in everything of the kind; but the lot that is free from all manner of eye-offending truck, that, on the other hand, is just a vacant lot, with no offending incumbrances, stands a better chance of being sold than the one that is truck-strewn, though the latter might be more convenient as to location.

Cleanliness, order, tidiness, enter more largely into the philosophy of judgment and business than in this rushing age many of us are inclined to believe, and they are well worth considering as a business proposition.

Little fault is to be found in Glendale. Happily, we are a clean, tidy people. This is not flattery; it is the simple truth, and all one has to do to be convinced is to take a ramble through the business section, and what is true in that part is fairly generally true throughout the city. Of course, we are not above reproach. we have some things yet to learn as, for example, in some of our vacant lots and stores for rent. But take us all in all, we can more than pass muster with the average.

LOS ANGELES COUNCIL "EXPLAINS"

The City Council of Los Angeles has fixed the tax rate for the present fiscal year at $1.52. It is an increase of 7 cents, made, the Council charges, because of the failure of the Public Service Commission to make good its promise that the city would never be taxed to meet the interest and sinking fund in connection with the $6,500,000 power bond issue approved by the people on May 8, 1914. But on the part of the commission it was stated that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation was to blame for the tax complication. It was declared that the commission was willing to set aside approximately $50, monthly from the funds received through the power contract recently entered into with private corporations, but that the threat of the gas corporation to enjoin the water department from using its receipts in that way could not be overlooked.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation is an old meddler in the civic affairs of Los Angeles, but we are not interested so far as it is concerned. It goes to show, however, the influences that may be set up by the city authorities as an excuse for their course in important issues. The City Council blames the Public Service Commission, and the Public Service Commission blames the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and the upshot of it is, the people have to pay a higher tax rate. It is an illuminating object lesson to the communities Los Angeles invites to come in with it.

But how the City Council could expect the city itself to escape meeting the interest and sinking fund in connection with the $6,500,000 power bond issue, is surely a curiosity in legislative wisdom. Who would pay these charges if the city did not? The outlying districts annexed to Los Angeles, or the man in the moon? It makes little difference by what method or agency the imposts are made, the interest must be met, if Los Angeles is to retain its credit in the financial centers and among the bond-buying public, and if the city's bonds are to be retired, there must of course be a sinking fund—and the entire obligation is on the taxpayers of Los Angeles.

The meaning of the Council's explanation, which is more an apology, is that the payments for the city's bonded indebtedness are becoming irksome. Los Angeles is constantly encroaching upon its narrowing borrowing margin—which again explains its desire for fresh annexation—each new issue means an added obligation, and the policy of the authorities, from the Council down, is to shift the responsibility for increase in the tax rate.

Co-operation in a community can accomplish wonders. It is united efforts that count when it comes to doing things. One individual, single-handed, is often stalled, when a group of individuals can move along easily with the load.

pital corps for France. Mrs. Crist did not complain nor did she lose heart. On the contrary she answered an advertisement in the local papers for a taxi cab driver. On applying in person for the job she made such a hit with the proprietor that he didn't hesitate about signing her up. "I like the job fine," says Mrs. Crist. "It's a pleasant change from doing everyday housework."

EUREKA, Cal., August 30.—Eureka's annual Sweet Pea Festival—the second to be held—opened at noon to-day with the floral parade. Automobiles, floats and marching children—the decorations countless thousands of many-hued Sweet Peas grown in Humboldt county gardens—formed the parade which ended in front of the court house where Miss Shirley Beckwith, pretty school teacher, was crowned queen of the festival. To-morrow's big event will be the pageant of the months. Beginning with January represented by the Snow Fairies dance and the little New Year—all represented by youthful school children—each month on the calendar will have its place and its dance in the pageant. The Sweet Pea Dance will mark June and July will give the pageant its patriotic touch with Uncle Sam, Columbia and other patriotic figures represented. Father Time will appear at the close of the pageant. Throughout the summer Humboldt County flower lovers have been husbanding their sweet peas for the festival—a wealth of blossoms being the result. Appropriate and substantial prizes for the finest displays of flowers and the choices bouquets will be awarded at the festival's close.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—Mayor Rolph is one of the San Franciscans who have turned their automobiles into free jitney buses since the carmen's strike. Every morning people along Mission street expect the Mayor's jitney and wait for it. And it always is crowded to the cover. At 7 o'clock each morning the early rising Mayor leaves for the office and picks up his friends en route. "Hello Bill, hop in," or "Good morning, Miss Smith, rather chilly this morning," are his cheery remarks as he waits at regular stops for his passengers to climb in. The Mayor says business is rushing.

RED CROSS FRENCH CLASS

Most of the two hours spent yesterday at the Red Cross French class was devoted to reading for the sake of pronunciation. An article written in the Los Angeles weekly French paper, "L'Union Nouvelle," was used as text; each pupil was given a typewritten copy of the article in question to take home for daily practice during the week. In it 500,000 of the best families in France offer to 500,000 American soldiers all the privileges of home, each French family adopting one soldier boy as "son of the house," to entertain him during his leaves of absence, to visit him if sick, and by writing to his home people to establish a bond of friendship eternal between France and America.

Just before the class ended, Mrs. Woods wrote upon the blackboard as follows: "Ce matin j'ait fait des conserves de l'ecorce d'un melon d'eau. Voulez-vous en gouter?" And immediately the pupils were served with delicious watermelon preserve.

Mrs. A. S. Kelly, 1403 Salem St., has just returned from a ten days' visit in San Francisco.

Personals

Miss Hazel Foster of Los Angeles is the guest of Mrs. H. O. Melone, 224 Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Erling, 117 North Louise street, are spending the week at Ocean Park.

H. M. Butts, of the Monarch Company, 421 Couth Brand boulevard, is again devoting his attention to automobile headlights.

Mrs. Clara Moore of 1504 West 5th St., who had been visiting in the East for the past three months, has just returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Layton, L. M. Layton and Miss Beulah Layton of 325 East Colorado street are spending a month at Redondo Beach.

Mrs. A. S. Chase, 1500 Riverdale drive, entertained as her week-end guests, Miss Katharine Burns, of Columbus, Ohio, and W. F. Gates of Los Angeles.

The children on Riverdale drive are excedingly patriotic and are preparing to give an entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross in the near future. Further announcement will be made.

It is reported among automobile men in Glendale that auto owners who have not adjusted their headlights to comply with the new law will be prosecuted, beginning September 1st.

L. W. Bosserman left Tuesday for Salt Lake, where he will meet Mrs. Bosserman, who is returning from a visit to Nebraska. After a short visit in Salt Lake, Mr. Bosserman will go on to Indiana and Mrs. Bosserman will return to Glendale.

Miss Lillian M. Medick, of South Louise street, has returned to her old home in New Jersey on a business and pleasure trip combined. Miss Medick expects to be absent two months, after which she will return to Glendale to make her permanent home.

F. H. Cassell, 215 North Kenwood street, left Wednesday for Lexington, Kentucky, accompanying his mother, Mrs. W. H. Cassell, who has been spending the summer with her son and family. Mr. Cassell expects to spend about two months in the Cumberland Mountains.

The many friends of Miss Dorothy Poppy will be sorry to learn that she was obliged to go to the Methodist Hospital in Los Angeles, last week, where she underwent an operation. She is doing very nicely and no doubt will be able to resume her duties as a member of the Glendale High School faculty.

F. A. Field and Miss Bessie L. Field, 239 South Kenwood street, are spending the week at Switzer's Camp. Mrs. Field had the pleasure of entertaining Miss Anna and Miss Nellie Warren of San Francisco at luncheon on Tuesday. Later an auto ride, taking in Glendale and points of interest adjacent was enjoyed by Mrs. Field and guests.

Miss Gertrude Champlain, 1541 Hawthorne street, has returned from a few days' visit with friends at Alhambra. To-day Miss Champlain, with Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Anderson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ringstrom of Glendale, will enjoy a picnic at La Ramada. Miss Susine Wessels and Miss Pearl Olds will join the party in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Porter, 823 North Brand, has received word that her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Porter, who has been in the East, has safely crossed the continent and was met in San Francisco by Miss Martha Porter, who went up from Santa Barbara where she is visiting her brother, Wm. S. Porter, Jr., for that purpose. After a few days spent in San Francisco, the Misses Porter returned to Santa Barbara and will be home early next week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Meeker and son Warren, 300 East Colorado street, returned Tuesday evening from a week-end outing which was spent at Redondo and Hermosa beaches. Mrs. Meeker and daughters became proficient swimmers at Coronado this summer and the lure of the ocean still invites them, while Warren Meeker had the distinction of swimming across the bay at San Diego, a feat not often attempted by so young a swimmer, and taking an hour and twenty minutes in its accomplishment.

A happy thought on the part of Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. Eva S. Gilson, Mrs. D. W. Hunt and Mrs. John Wilde resulted in the complete surprise of Mrs. E. W. Pack, who at present is residing at 430 South Adams street. These old-time friends and neighbors, remembering that August 28 was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Pack, came laden with gifts, flowers and a beautiful birthday cake to celebrate. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by these guests and their impromptu hostess. Other friends, remembering the day, also sent loving messages and appropriate gifts. Still others called in person to offer congratulations. Among these were Mrs. Eleanor Whitaker and Miss Ina Whitaker, also old-time friends.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday. Westerly winds.

Mrs. G. H. Barager of Long Beach is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. K. Robertshaw, 616 South Adams street.

Dorothy Darnley, 625 North Louise street, is spending two weeks in Santa Barbara, the guest of her grandmother.

Mrs. Chas. H. Sanders and daughter Ethel, of 1320 North Brand boulevard, returned Wednesday evening from a three months' visit in New York and other eastern points. Mrs. M. Viohl, who has been staying at her daughter's residence during her absence, has returned to her home, 1546 West Colorado street.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The Glendale branch held its regular meeting last Monday in the headquarters on Broadway. A great deal of work was accomplished as Mrs. England and a number of the energetic workers were at work at 11 o'clock and from now on until further notice the work rooms will always be open at that time on Mondays.

There was a good attendance. At four o'clock the members and their friends adjourned to the tea room at Ye Ginger Tavern, where tea and delicious sandwiches and cake were served. The hostess on Monday was Mrs. Walters, president of the Glendale branch, assisted by her house guests, Mrs. Tyner of San Diego and L. J. Walters of Salt Lake City, Miss Ina Whitaker, Miss McKenzie and Miss Eckles.

The part of Ye Ginger Tavern reserved for the tea was marked by two handsome flags, the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack. Mrs. Walter's table was decorated with flowers and a dainty little silver stand holding the flag of the Allies. In front of this was placed the beautiful pin made by Mr. Walker of Glendale for the Allies' Fiesta last month. This pin contains six flags of the Allies and underneath the words, "These colors will not run." One hundred chances are being sold on it, Mr. Faries of the Men's Shop having charge of it. The pin will be on display at each of the teas at Ye Ginger Tavern, of which notice will be given later.

RED CROSS NOTES

The War Council of the American Red Cross to-day announces the sending of a commission to Serbia to begin immediately relief work in that stricken country and to help its scattered population in the struggle against privaton and disease. Two hundred thousand dollars have been appropriated by the War Council to buy medical and other supplies for use among refugees on the Macedonian front.

Cordenio Arnold Severance, an eminent lawyer of St. Paul, Minnesota, heads the mission as Commissioner.

Deputy commissioners are:

Fater Francis Jages, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

Edwin D. Haskell, Secretary, Minneapolis.

Two other members of the Commission, W. A. W. Stewart of New York, and L. D. Wishard of Pasadena, California, left some time ago for Salonika.

The fifth of the Red Cross Commissions goes to study a problem acknowledged as one of the most formidable in Europe. There is hardly a family in Serbia that has not been uprooted and torn from its home, and none that has not lost some member on the battlefield.

What have been the nation's losses during the past five years of bloodshed can not be estimated. From an army of nearly a half a million at the beginning of the war, over a hundred and fifty thousand men are estimated to have been taken prisoners by the Central Powers and are suffering from malnutrition in prison camps. Many thousands were lost in the retreat through Albania. Of the army of one hundred thousand now on the Salonika front, about sixty thousand are actual fighting men.

The civilian population has suffered as greatly as the army. It has been harried over the face of Europe. One hundred and fifty thousand fatherless families, it is estimated, are facing destitution in various countries. Refugees in Russia, Roumania, Greece, Italy, France, and Switzerland number over thirty thousand. Fifty thousand families are interned in Austrian camps. After the massacres at Nish last February, when 20,000 Serbians died in revolt, upwards of thirty thousand of these unhappy people were deported by the Bulgarians into Asia Minor.

The pressing needs of Serbia have been laid before the Red Cross War Council by Dr. Edward Ryan, Red Cross Representative at Salonika, and by Miss Emily Simmonds, graduate of Roosevelt Hospital, New York, who enlisted in the Serbian Red Cross in 1914 and has since then assisted in the relief of thousands of refugees.

Miss Simonds urges the dispatch of food, clothing, bandages, blankets, seeds, agricultural tools, as well as of doctors and nurses. In her informal report to the Red Cross, she said:

live, more money is in local circulation, and everybody interested is bettered. The proposition is too plain to need argument.

If we would all, or nearly all, do that obvious thing, real estate would suddenly rise in value because of increased demand; our vacant stores would soon be rented and the great prosperity known in the East and in parts of the West also, would soon be enjoyed in Glendale.

There is a civic patriotism also, and the citizen who from thoughtlessness, carelessness or small individual selfishness is disloyal to our home city is—well, to say the least of it—is seriously detrimental to the financial and other interests of neighbors and all other Glendalians.

Of course any such wrong will soon hurt the wrongdoers, directly or indirectly.

Even if they do not care for their own interests, ought they to needlessly injure their neighbors? "Is it morally right?" Ask that question of yourself while gazing into your own eyes in your mirror, and note what happens.

You can not say, even to yourself, that it is morally right, without "dropping your eyes." Yes, this means YOU, personally, if you are one of those who needlessly slight Glendale business.

Try it—and be honest with yourself, if you can.

This is a simple business proposition, for your own interest. Even if you care nothing about your neighbors, perhaps you would not intentionally injure your own nnancial interests if you realized the facts. Would you, now, "honest Injun"?

Some people boast of not taking any local newspaper, as if it were a creditable thing. Several families who trusted to outside information about the draft lists now have sons forced to go into military service because they neglected precautions urged in the local papers. Any neighborly wrong, direct or indirect, inevitably brings hurtful consequences, direct or indirect. Facts are facts. In these days of vast national conservation, let us conserve Glendale interests also.

Conservation, like charity, begins at home.

So does "safety first," last and all the time.

This is important, if true.

In our own selfish, individual interest, why not give it a fair test to see if it is true.

Let us all sign the mutual agreement at the close of this article, then send it to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce to be entered in the book kept there for that purpose. Or stop in at the Chamber of Commerce, sign your name in that book, and take a look at the interesting exhibit there displayed, incidentally looking at the list of drafted men accepted or rejected and discharged. When you sign that agreement you thereby become a member of the patriotic "Glendale League for Home Business and Better Business." It has no formal organization, no officers, no dues, no expense of any kind; but you at once aid in the campaign for good times in Glendale. Why not give it an honest trial—for your own benefit? Why not paste one of those coupons on a sheet of paper, or copy it there, and get other signatures among your friends and neighbors? A substantial prize will be given to the boy or girl who gets the largest number of signatures to that agreement. More about that and other prizes later.

Why not talk up this proposition in your neighborhood, in your clubs, associations, lodges, societies, even in your churches and Sunday schools? What is good for Glendale is good for them also. The church and Sunday school have a business, practical material side also. Ask Billy Sunday.

A valuable prize in money will be given to the person who sends to the Chamber of Commerce the best practical letter urging this plan. Perhaps many of those letters will be good enough to publish. The prize letter will be framed and hung up in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. No letter should exceed 500 words.

One of those agreements should be displayed in every store, office, shop or other public place in Glendale, and it ought to be everybody's business, as it is everybody's interest to get everybody to sign it. It costs you nothing and it will make big money for Glendale, and therefore benefit all interested in "Glendale, the Home of the Home Lover."

Profitable operation is co-operation.

Let us all get together and fairly try this new Glendale plan—for Home Business and Better Business.

GLENDALE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. O. S. Palmer, 116 West Colorado street, Friday, September 7, at 2:30 p. m. An interesting program will be given. War service work will be continued. This Union, with the West Glendale Union, visited the Southern California W. C. T. U. Home at Highland Park last Friday, and gave the guests at the Home such a bountiful lunch as they had never before seen, and left for them quantities of fruits, jellies and other gifts. Several young ladies, the Misses Quackenbush, Palmer, Mottern, Tarling and Walter, gave a musical program. Mesdames Smart and Hyatt, presidents of the Unions, and Miss Russell, Matron of the Home, and Mrs. Hall, of China, gave excellent talks. Thirty-seven members and friends enjoyed the delightful day, not the least of the pleasure being the ride on Mr. Todd's truck to and from the Home.

PROTECTION FOR SOLDIERS' FAMILIES

It is a matter of importance to the Red Cross that, at the instance of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, a comprehensive measure providing for the financial assistance of the families of American soldiers and sailors has been introduced in Congress.

Henry P. Davison, Chairman, on behalf of the Red Cross War Council, recently authorized the following:

"Obviously the task of providing for the financial assistance of the families of our soldiers and sailors is so large that the Government alone can assume it. In no other way can the burden be discharged fairly and as a matter of right rather than charity. No voluntary organization, or organizations, could adequately cope with a duty of such magnitude."

The bill, which was introduced in both Houses of Congress simultaneously, represents a very careful study of the whole problem of possible dependency as a result of the war and a conscientious estimate of the Governments' recognition of its responsibility.

As drawn, the bill is an amendment to the Act establishing the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and adds to the functions of this Bureau the administration of family allowances and allotments to dependents, of compensation for death or disability, and of life insurance for men in the military or naval service.

In a memorandum, Secretary McAdoo explains the operation of the proposed legislation.

"I realize," says the Secretary of the Treasury, "that the cost involved in the promulgation of such a comprehensive plan is a most important factor to be considered. Actuarial estimates were submitted to me. These estimates are necessarily of a tentative character, owing to the fact that it is impossible to secure accurate data upon which to base calculations. After careful consideration of these estimates, and after consultation with Captain S. H. Wolfe, of the War Department, one of the leading actuaries of the country, I have reached the conclusion that if the bill is promptly enacted into law the total expenditure for the first and second years will be as follows:

	First Year	Second Year
Family allowances	$141,000,000	$190,000,000
Death indemnities	3,700,000	22,000,000
Compensation for total disability	5,250,000	35,000,000
Compensation for partial disability	3,200,000	21,000,000
Insurance against death and disability	23,000,000	112,500,000
Total	$176,150,000	$380,500,000

"The bill is intended to meet those essential and fundamental principles of justice which you have so much at heart. Its main purpose is to grant a reasonable government indemnity against the losses and risks incurred in the discharge of a patriotic duty and in the performance of an extraordinarly hazardous service to which the Government has called and forced the citizen. It provides not only for the man but for his family.

"It aims to accomplish these ends by granting a reasonable measure of indemnity against risk of loss: (1) or support of the bread-winner; (2) of life and limb, (3) of present insurability at ordinary rates.

"The risk of dependency, in the case of an enlisted man's family, is indemnified against by allotment of part of the pay of the enlisted man, supplemented by a family allowance granted and paid by the Government."

This system, as explained, means that the enlisted man shares with the Government in providing for the financial needs of his family. The compulsory allotments from the enlisted man's pay must equal the family allowance from the Government, with a minimum, however, of $15 monthly, and a maximum of one-half pay. There is a scale of allowances determined by the size of the dependent family, so that the monthly family allowance ranges from $5 to $50, according to the number of dependents.

Secretary McAdoo illustrates the working of the system in the following example: "A private gets $33 a month for service abroad. If he has a wife and two children he must allot to them at least $15 out of his pay. The Government supplements this by giving the family an allowance of $32.50. This family's minimum monthly income, therefore, would be $47.50. The father can allot as much more as he pleases. If there is another child, the Government will allow $5 additional. If that man should have a father or mother actually dependent upon him, he can secure an allotment of $10 a month from the Government for the parent by allotting $5 more of his pay. Thus, the private with a wife, three children, and a mother actually dependent upon him, by giving $20 out of his $33 a month, would get from the Government $47.50 a month—giving the family an income of $67.50, and still leaving the man $13 per month for spending money. If there are more children, or if there is also a dependent father, the Government would give up to $50 in all, over and above the man's own allottment."

To instil thrift, to enable a man to build up a fund out of which he can pay the insurance premium, and, above all, better to preserve equality and democracy among the members of our own forces and between them and the Allies, provision is made enabling the War Department and the Navy Department, by regulation, to compel men who do not allot one-half of their pay to deposit so much of the half-pay as is not allotted, these deposits to bear interest at 4 per cent. per annum, compounded semi-annually.

"The risk of disabiltiy or death as to officers, men, and nurses while in active service as part of the military or naval forces of the United States is indemnified against by compensation on the analogy of the workman's compensation act rather than through a pension system.

"If total disability results from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in the course of the service, the compensation, based on the percentage of pay, but with a minimum of from $40 to $75 per month according to the size of the family, may increase for the higher officers to a maximum of $200 per month. Compensation is not payable, however, while the officer receives retirement allowance.

"Partial disabilities are compensated for on the basis of percentages of the compensation for total disability, dependent upon the average impairment of earning capacity resulting from such injuries in civil occupations. Provision is made for commutation under regulations, but of a part only of the compensation. Medical, surgical and hospital treatment, supplies and appliances are given."

In addition to these compensations, rehabilitation and re-education of the injured man are recognized as vital elements in the scheme. The bill does not attempt to cover the matter of means and methods of effecting this, since a study of European experience with this problem is necessary, but the principle is established in the bill.

"If death results from the injury or disease incurred or contracted in the course of the service," continues Secretary McAdoo's statement, "compensation is paid to the widow, children, and dependent widowed mother. The amount, based upon percentage of pay, ranges from a minimum, according to the size of the family, from $15 to $60 per month, to a maximum for the higher officers of $200 per month.

"Risk of non-insurability at ordinary rates is indemnified against by the insurance of Government insurance, covering total disability and death, to officers, men, and army nurses, while in the active service as part of the military or naval forces, in the amount of $1,000 to $10,000.

"The excess cost due to the increased mortality and disability risk should clearly be borne by the Government. The cost of administering the insurance bureau for the benefit of the fighting men is also a proper governmental charge. As the Government will not have the other expenses incident to insurance, the premium rates to be charged by it are based upon the mortality experience tables of peace time without "loading." Loading comprises overhead charges, commissions to agents, advertising, etc., and is a large item in the premium charges of private companies."

With these "loading" expenses eliminated, Secretary McAdoo says an insurance costing during the war an average of $8 per $1,000 can be provided, thus bringing even the maximum of $10,000 insurance to only $80 a year premium—a charge within the reach of practically every private. After the war the insurance may be converted into other forms with earlier maturity, the premiums to be based, however, on the same mortality tables and without "loading."

"The laws and experiences of other countries," says the Secretary, "have been studied and used in the preparation of this bill. It is clearly recognized that the Government can offer but minimum protection based on general averages throughout the country, and that in many states and large cities especially, supplemental grants will be required. State and municipal legislation my be expected to meet this need."

This bill places the responsibility for the gigantic task of relief of dependents where it obviously belongs—upon the National Government. At the same time there will be local obligations for relief—and in these the Red Cross will naturally function through its chapters and other local agencies. To quote again from the recent statement of the Chairman of the Red Cross War Council:

"The American people will not permit families to suffer want because their breadwinners are fighting for their country. Cases will undoubtedly arise wherein the allowance of the government will not be adequate to protect a family from financial distress. Such cases the Red Cross will hope to provide for through its Chapters."

LA CANADA

Miss Dorothy Lester will entertain a number of her friends Saturday evening, September first, with a dancing party.

It is desired by the American National Red Cross that the following paragraph be given wide publicity:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation or association other than the American National Red Cross and its duly authorized employees and agents and the army and navy sanitary authorities of the United States for the purpose of trade or as an advertisement to induce the sale of any article whatsoever or for any business or charitable purpose to use within the territory of the United States of America and its exterior possessions the emblem of the Greek Red Cross on a white ground or any sign or insignia made or colored in imitation thereof, or of the words 'Red Cross' or any combination of these words."

This is an extract from an Act made by Congress, prohibiting the manufacture of Red Cross emblems, pins, buttons, or other insignia, by agents other than those duly authorized by the National Headquarters.

Four new members have joined the La Canada Red Cross Auxiliary during the past two weeks: Mrs. I. Niby, R. G. Lyons, Dorothy Lester and Mrs. Jennie Maynard.

After a ten days' furlough, six days of which he spent with his mother in La Canada, Robert Murray returned last week to New York, where he will assist in instructing for two or three months. Young Murray trained in the officers' reserve in Texas and later went to Plattsburg, N. Y., where he received his commission as Second Lieutenant. Murray was highly commended for his work at Plattsburg, as competition was keen and a very small percentage received commissions.

Regular services will be held in the La Canada Congregational church Sunday, September second, at eleven a. m. Dr. Scott has returned from a four weeks' vacation, anxious for another successful season. The doctor and his wife have spent the four weeks of August in taking various machine trips throughout the country, and with their daughter, Dr. Katherine Scott, who is a guest at the Fairmount Hotel, La Crescenta.

Lloyd A. Peet, resident of La Canada for the past month, who at the time of the draft registration was in District No. 8, has been exempted from service for the first call. Peet filed his exemptions in Acton. He was excused on the grounds of dependents.

After various submarine threats and deep sea thrills, Hubert Bently, of Commonwealth avenue, who joined the commissary department in a French ambulance corps, has arrived in France and is now in action at the front. Mr. Robert Cooper received a card from Bently last week, stating that the sea voyage was enough to warm them up for later action. As Bently wrote the card he was headed for the front and could hear the rumble of the guns. Also Russel Stickney, who joined the navy over a year ago, is in Brooklyn, New York. A few weeks ago word came from Stickney, in New York, saying that his boat was sailing "God knows where." It was expected that he would soon be in France. However, they cruised the Bermuda Islands for four weeks, then returned to Brooklyn. Their next move is unknown.

The following bulletin was read by Mrs. J. Murray at the last meeting of the La Canada Red Cross:

"To All Chapters of Pacific Division:

An appeal has come to the American Red Cross from Major Murphy, Red Cross Commissioner for Europe, for 1,500,000 knitted sets, comprising sweater, muffler, wristlets and socks, and we in turn are about to call on the chapters throughout the United States for the production of these articles.

"The Red Cross Supply Bureau is arranging for a large supply of yarn and knitting needles to meet the requirements of the chapters.

"Desperate need will exist for these articles among the soldier and civil population of France and our other allies before we can get these articles made.

"To expedite the work, we should like to have you start at once and without waiting for the new knitting manual to prepare for the work, and we suggest the following:

"1. Mobilize all available knitters in your chapter, branches and auxiliaries.

"2. Make it clear that we seek the aid in this big undertaking of all knitters, whether they are members of the Red Cross or not.

"Please impress upon everyone who is now knitting that we do not want them to discontinue any work they have in hand.

"In order to prevent exhausting the first supply of yarn by our sending more of a supply than is necessary, we would appreciate it if you would advise this office what quantity you could use in a month.

"Remember: This will be a rush order. Quick action. Quick results.

"Signed."

Mrs. Lester, president of the La Canada Red Cross, wishes it to be especially emphasized that the women who are unable to attend the Red Cross may do the knitting at home. This plea from the National Red Cross for knitted articles gives an opportunity for those unable to assist in bandage making. It is hoped that every woman in La Canada able to knit will offer her services at this time.

The Ladies' Aid of the La Canada Congregational Church will hold an all-day meeting Wednesday, September 5th. Members and friends are asked to be present.

NOTICE OF THE RECORDING OF THE REASSESSMENT AND DIAGRAM FOR THE OPENING AND WIDENING OF BROADWAY FROM THE EAST LINE OF EVERETT STREET TO THE EASTERLY BOUNDARY LINE OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

Notice is hereby given that the reassessment and diagram for the Opening and Widening of Broadway from the East line of Everett Street to the Easterly boundary line of the City of Glendale was recorded in the office of the City Manager and Ex-Officio Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale on the 17th day of August, 1917. The date of the first publication of the Notice is August 20th, 1917.

All sums levied in said reassessment are due and payable immediately, and payment of said sums is to be made to me in my office at the City Hall, in said city, within thirty (30) days after the said date of the first publication of this Notice, to-wit: On or before September 19, 1917.

All assessments not paid on or before the said 19th day of September, 1917, will become delinquent, and thereupon five (5) per cent upon the amount of each such assessment will be added thereto, and the property advertised for sale as provided for by law.

T. W. WATSON,
City Manager and Ex-Officio Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale. 302t10

The jury, after a long deliberation, seemed unable to agree in a perfectly clear case. The judge, thoroughly exasperated at the delay, said:

"I discharge this jury."

One sensitive juror, indignant at what he considered a rebuke, faced the judge.

"You can't discharge me!" he said, with a tone of conviction.

"And why not?" inquired the judge in surprise.

"Because," announced the juror, pointing to the lawyer for the defense, "I was hired by that man there!"—Selected.
